

Smart Policing

Helping your force make the most of technology

Smarter technology for all

The UK police force sets the standard for law enforcement agencies worldwide.

But increasingly, you are being asked to deliver more for less. Charged with providing improved services, despite suffering the deepest budget cuts in a generation.

And outdated technology is only making things worse.

We can help. Our digital solutions can transform the way policing is delivered.

With Lenovo on the team, you'll benefit from a new kind of reinforcement. Let us take on the repetitive, time-consuming back-of-house tasks – so your officers can get back to doing what they do best: serving their communities.

And because our solutions are advanced by AMD Ryzen™ PRO and AMD EPYC™ processors, they're built for secure, responsive performance across mobile, desktop, and data centre environments.
